VAN GERBIG WINS 60th STATE AMATEUR GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

ORLANDO — “Best run big tournament I’ve ever seen,” the man said. And he has seen some.

The man was Gene Smith, executive assistant professional to head man Dick Tiddy at Arnold Palmer’s Bay Hill Club where FSGA’s 60th annual State Amateur Championship had just completed a week’s run.

Mr. Smith, I’m sure, recognized the fact, although modestly, that he and his competent associates had been part of the big team which successfully closed another chapter on Florida’s oldest continuous sports event. The Florida Amateur has been played since 1914 with interruption only during the two World War periods. It is sponsored annually by Florida State Golf Association.

The elements and resources, natural and man-made, were first class. The golf course, the knowledgeable Bay Hill staff and magnificent weather gave the FSGA tournament crew and its 194 player field the ultimate in cooperation.

There were the usual minor disruptions, including a late night intruder, driving an errant vehicle over the tenth fairway and green spinning and skidding wheels that gouged tire tracks in the playing surface. However, all emergencies were met and solved with minimum confusion. That included the selection of a stout and high tree branch from which the intruder will be hung by the heels when caught.

The champion who emerged from the 72 hole, four-day fray is a popular, dedicated amateur well-known and respected on the national and international golf scene. Mickey Van Gerbig, a 36-year-old Palm Beach attorney, who, as a student at nearby Rollins College, had walked the monster Bay Hill course before it was seeded in the early 1960s, hung tough throughout the fray for his victory.

Van Gerbig returned rounds of 70-70-77-75 for his 292 winning score. That was four over par for the 7,000-yard daily trek over “The Hill” which has been robust in its defense of par in FSGA Championships.

Bob Murphy, Jr., won the first State Amateur played here in 1965 with a 290.

VAN GERBIG WINS

Gary Koch followed with a winning 291 in 1972. Van Gerbig's 292 this year, incidentally, was his opening day total which he had forecast in the press. Koch was in character with the other players of the golf course.

In a pre-tournament run over the track, designating daily pin placements, tree markers, hazard stakes and lines, with Superintendent Jim Ellison, the feeling was that even par would win if the weather held fair. Jim and his crew had the course in prime shape and an almost windless four days provided ideal conditions.

Our thoughts about par and perhaps even a stroke or two under, took a position of substance opening day when Al Johns fired an incredible 63, nine under par. Johns, Chairman of the Board of Punta Gorda Isles and Southwest Florida Banks, stored up a four stroke edge in the first round with a barrage of nine birdies and nine pars, a better than perfect round. He left 192 other competitors shaking heads and wondering if Johns had played all the holes. The 193rd competitor, David Abell, the Wake Forest-bound prep star from Fort Pierce, was astounded to learn when he checked into the scoreboard with a not-so-shabby 67 that he was four strokes back.

"Well it beats shooting 72 and being nine back," Abell joked when he regained his composure.

The next day it was a different story when "The Hill" rose indignantly, stuffed Johns and Abell in a pressurized outdoor oven and popped them out with well-cooked, over par rounds of 80 for Al and 83 for David.

The opening day 63 broke Arnold Palmer's course record by a shot. Amateur Tracy Allen and professional Gordon Jones also shared the 64 record with Palmer. The Al Johns 32-31-63 provided plenty of first day drama, however, the course retaliated and got things back to reality from the second day on when Johns finished with 80-72-79 for 294 and second place.

Press coverage of the 60th annual featured Jerry Green's fine stories and pictures for the Orlando Sentinel. Tom Edrington and Pat Eggeling covered for the Tampa Tribune and Central Florida was aware of the happenings. Unfortunately, the day is long past for wire services to move information to the hinterlands about amateur golf in Florida.

There were 59 prize places in the field which went into a Championship, eight flights and a senior section competition, held for the first time and won by Jack Coogler of Orlando. In addition to silver and merchandise prizes all qualifying for the Championship and the flight winners, were given FSGA travel golf bag covers in which to haul their business implements to future encounters.

The 60th renewal was an epic one.

HICKORY SHAFT COMPETITION

The Gillespie material looks very attractive. I think you will probably find it worthwhile to pursue the hickory shaft portion even if it is only for a nine hole fun event, as it may help you gain further publicity on a National basis.

Thanks for the invitation to the dinner on the 19th but I will be out of town on that date. Give me a raincheck. However, I would love to participate next year. As a matter of fact if you need some assistance at the banquet that is part of my regular routine.

I may get over to Sarasota sometime this summer as we try to go to the theatre once during the year. If so I will certainly give you a call in advance.

CLUB VISITATION

Your visit with us and your presentation was appreciated by all of us here at Cape Coral Golf & Racquet Club.

We are definitely interested in your considering us for a tournament here in 1978 or 1979. Of course we need your suggestions and assistance to proceed in this direction.

Whenever you are available, we would like you to be our guest here at Cape Coral and play our course. At that time anything you would suggest to improve our setup or to put us in a position to qualify for consideration could be discussed and proper steps would be taken to comply in every way.

Both Mr. Reilly and myself are available at any time. You can contact us at 542-7878 or 542-3191. Be assured that you will have our fullest cooperation.

WILLOW BROOK REQUESTS

I have been in touch with Mrs. Dexter Daniels, Sr., and she informs me that the FSGA has a current picture of Dexter, Sr., that we could use for our tournament logo.

I would appreciate it if you could send the picture to me as soon as possible. Thank you.

NCA BLACKED OUT

I'm sorry your plans wouldn't permit you to join us, but we did have delightful seminar at the Lauderdale Yacht Club on Monday. Of course, we were in the middle of that power blackout, but we merely moved the meeting out to a beautiful screened-in room which gave us natural light and plenty of breeze. It actually was a better setting than our inside room.

Hope all is well with you. Let's stay in touch.

FROM EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR
CANADIAN LADIES' G.A.

Many thanks for sending me the April issue of your Newsletter which I found very interesting. However, I would like to comment on the items referring to British Golf Clubs contained in “Inside Florida Golf.”

As one who for many years was actively engaged in administration in British golf I really must challenge the statement that if as a member, you introduce and recommend a friend for membership and he is denied, you are expected to resign your membership. If that were the case, who would ever propose anyone for membership? Most of the fables such as that begin as jokes in the Bar and eventually someone hearing it for the first time repeats it as a fact. The same thing applies to the story about the applicant who was given permission to play nine holes only. That is indeed a joke and has been making the rounds for decades.

The main difference between golf on this continent and that of Britain is that by and large golf Clubs in Britain are just that. Country Clubs as they exist in North America are rare in Britain and, as a result, the cost of being a member of a Club there is considerably lower than it is the U.S. and Canada.

It is very true that in the past there were very many social barriers in force at many Clubs but, over there, as here, things have changed. Golf over there is cheap. To give you a couple of instances, a round of golf at Royal Blackheath costs Two Pounds, less than $4.00 and the same fee applies at the Old Course at St. Andrews. The New Course is even cheaper and the Jubilee Course costs less than $2.00.

Will look forward to seeing you at the I.A.G.A. Conference in Phoenix next February.

Les Whamond
Ottawa, Ontario, Canada

EDITOR’S NOTE: Whamond’s response and views are welcome. Particularly the observations about the cost of golf in the land where it all began. We found green fees very reasonable during the last visit to England and Scotland and are hopeful of returning soon on another junket.

Of special current interest is The Queen’s Hotel, a lovely-sounding, historic, former manor house at Gullane, Scotland.

There are three courses nearby and we found Gullane One to be a truly remarkable seaside adventure. Luffness New, St. Andrews and Muirfield also are within a few miles. The quality and fun of these courses never will disappoint you.

WANTS BEST GOLF DEAL

We have your Florida Golf and Tennis guide and have found it very helpful in locating and playing various courses.

Where is the best golf deal in Florida for a couple of modest means?

It is our intention to buy a small home somewhere close to a good course we can join and play about four days a week for the winter months. We are looking for a spot where the golf is good, the rates reasonable and if possible somewhere that permits owning your own riding cart, or paying a modest monthly or annual cart rental fee.

For example, although we want to be further south, you can join one of the courses at Hilton Head, South Carolina, and are entitled to privileges at four courses including the Harbour Town course. In addition, for $746.00 a year you and your wife are entitled to a seat on a golf cart at any course anytime you make a starting time.

Any suggestions you may offer will be greatly appreciated.

BAY HILL — The third round of this year’s State Amateur here had not been completed when FSGA’s tournament committee gathered in an impromptu session to consider next year’s event.

“This one will be hard to top,”

“The field should be smaller, 194 players are too many. Lower the handicap requirement to 0-4.”

“Keep the senior section but reduce the handicap requirement from six to four.”

“A smaller, quality field will make it a more prestigious event and give us a chance at the better golf courses.”

“We must go to southeast Florida next year.”

That was the general theme of the discussion. So, with the 60th annual championship put away as a successful piece of FSGA history, work goes forward to:

1. Schedule the 61st annual Amateur Championship in the Palm Beach area.

2. Reduce the size of the field to 128 players. Make the handicap requirement four and under.

3. Have 20 players in the senior section required to have handicap six or under.

We suggest those interested in playing in the 1978 State Amateur Championship go to work to lower handicaps pronto and when your entry form arrives send it in by return mail.

ARNOLD PALMER’S first question after hearing his Bay Hill Course record had been broken in the first round of the State Amateur was:

“Where were the tee markers?”

Palmer had called his head professional, Dick Tiddy, on routine business Friday afternoon, the second day of the tournament.

“They played ’em from the posts, Arnold. The guy just had a super round,” Dick said.

The tee markers were set at, or a few yards back of, the yardage monuments. Rear green hole locations compensated for any short-placed tee positions. The course played about 6,875 yards. “The Hill’s” all-the-golf-course yardage is 7,092.

That “guy,” Al Johns of Punta Gorda, a 49 year old veteran amateur campaigner, knocked the pins down all day in scoring his nine under par 63.

Starting on the 10th hole, for his opening nine, Johns charted his first birdie on the par 4th, a 373 yarder requiring a finessed approach into a well-bunkered, elongated green which sported a delicate pin placement opening day.

The Johns’ assault on par began in earnest on 16 when he started a six hole birdie barrage . . . 16, 17, 18, 1, 2, and 3 fell consecutively to his magic wand. He parred the 4th, a robust 441 yard par 4. Then a birdie at 5 put him eight under par, tying Palmer’s course record 64 at that point.

Pars followed at 6, 7 and 8. On 9, his finishing hole, two clothesline rifle shots put Johns 42 feet from the hole. He smoothly rolled in the snake for the record 63. Nine pars, nine birdies in his record round.

Al had a mighty compatible group cheering him as the round progressed. His playing partners were Bob Rankin, FSGA’s 1969 State Champion, Julian Arnold of Miami and John McKey, Jr., Delray Beach. Rankin was one under with 71, Arnold shot 72 and McKey 76. As a foursome they were 14 under par, the threesome scoring five birdies to go with Al’s nine to give them an imposing best ball of 56 for the 18 holes. Tough.

Johns was delighted with his all time best competitive round and happily took away the attested scorecard and special scoreboard notices for his trophy shelf. Haven’t learned if he’s heard from Palmer.
